WHO'S INVOLVED?

Who signs you up?

Apprenticeship Support Australia (ASA)

ASA is your Apprenticeship Network Provider contracted by the Australian Government. We conduct the training contract sign up, administer standard incentives program, offer support services, and have regular contact with the apprentice/trainee and employer as nominated.

Apprenticeship Data Management System (ADMS)

ADMS is a modern and secure platform supporting the delivery of Australian Apprenticeship programs. The ADMS system is used by the Australian Apprentice or Trainee to review and submit claim applications. If eligible to claim, the Australian Apprentice or Trainee will receive an email notification to advise their application is ready to progress from ADMS.

State Training Authority (STA)

The Victorian Registration and Quality Authority is the regulator of apprenticeships and traineeships in Victoria. They provide the final step and approve your training arrangement. They make things official!

Who employs you?

Employer

The employer hires apprentices/trainees and provides appropriate support, training and supervision on the job for you to gain the skills and knowledge to complete your apprenticeship or traineeship.

Group Training Organisation (GTO)

In some instances the apprentice/trainee is not employed directly by an employer, but through a GTO. The GTO employs you and places you with a host employer.

The Australian Apprentice/Trainee That's you!

Who trains you?

Your employer – on-the-job training

Gaining hands-on experience is important. Your employer provides appropriate support, training and supervision on the job so that you can gain the skills and knowledge to complete the requirements of your apprenticeship or traineeship.

Registered Training Organisation (RTO) – off-site training

The RTO works with you and your employer to deliver a training plan, deliver training, assess achievement of skills and issue the qualification on successful completion. TAFE is an example of an RTO. An Employer must release the Australian Apprentice for formal training and pay the appropriate wages to attend any training and assessment set out in the training plan. Release time to complete formal training is also stipulated in the full training plan.

Remember, you need to be signed up with ASA before enrolling with a RTO.

APPRENTICESHIP SUPPORT AUSTRALIA IS WITH YOU ALL THE WAY

Connecting you with your employer

Employers are the foundation of every registered apprenticeship program. Your employer will work with the Group Training Organisation (GTO) (where applicable), your dedicated ASA Industry Training Consultant and the Registered Training Organisation (RTO) to ensure you are on track to complete your national qualification.

National qualifications

Once you've completed your apprenticeship or training, you will be the proud owner of a national qualification. This is your guarantee that you are fully qualified, and on track to excelling in your chosen career!

Related study requirements

Combine on-the-job learning with further education and study with an RTO, such as TAFE. Your employer and your ASA Industry Training Consultant will organise this for you.

The payment of your training fees depends on the Industrial Award under which you are paid. Speak to both your employer and ASA representative to find out how.

Integrated on- the-job training

Together, your RTO and employer will organise:

- What you will be trained in
- Who you will be training with
- How the training will be done
- Where the training will take place
- And arrange for you to attend any off-the-job training.

VET is for earning

Your employer will pay your wages and superannuation. You will receive the same entitlements as all other employees (such as annual leave, sick leave and public holidays) according to the agreement/award under which you are employed. Finding your balance

It's possible to work, live and have fun. Here's how:

FIND YOUR BALANCE
Manage a healthy work-life balance with these tips.

- 1. Prioritise your tasks
Remember what you have for 'Your opportunity' (work/learning). Use the priorities to set your day for a successful week and to follow up on the things you said the night before. It's up to you to make the most of it – which means making time for your health and wellbeing.
- 2. Values to say 'no'
If you can't go out the night before a big job, just say no. Be polite but firm. It's better to be honest than to overcommit.
- 3. Make time for exercise
Exercise saves energy and stress. It's a great way to clear your mind and make your body healthy. Make time for it every day.
- 4. Sleep
The best time to sleep is at night.
- 5. Be realistic
You can only do so much – it's okay to not feel in control now and then. Make sure you're not overloading yourself with too many tasks and taking on too much. Remember, they've been through this too, and they really can help.

Banking basics

Is your bank account working for you? Find out!

BANKING BASICS

Get money!
It's time to open a bank account!
Managing your money is a key skill. You need a transaction / deposit account. Your income (wages, pocket money, birthday money, etc.) goes into it. And you can use it to pay for things like rent, utilities, clothes, food, etc. It's a great way to keep your money safe and make it work for you. If you're not sure, ask your supervisor or a trusted friend for advice.

What bank account should I choose?
Want to access your money to spend it or pay bills? You need a transaction / deposit account. Your income (wages, pocket money, birthday money, etc.) goes into it. And you can use it to pay for things like rent, utilities, clothes, food, etc. It's a great way to keep your money safe and make it work for you. If you're not sure, ask your supervisor or a trusted friend for advice.

When choosing, check for:

- Low or no fees (including ATM fees, international transaction fees or fees on purchases). Bank fees are money. If a bank has a lot of fees, it's not a good idea. Look for banks that have low or no fees.
- Low or no interest rates (if you're saving). If you're saving, you want a bank that offers a good interest rate. Look for banks that offer a good interest rate.
- Good customer service (if you're saving). If you're saving, you want a bank that offers good customer service. Look for banks that offer good customer service.
- Check the catch. Does the account have conditions that limit your access to your money? For example, some banks require you to use their ATM or to have a certain amount of money in the account.

Account types to consider:

- Transaction / deposit account: A bank account that you use to keep your money. It's a good idea to have one of these.
- Savings account: A bank account that you use to save your money. It's a good idea to have one of these.
- Current account: A bank account that you use to pay your bills. It's a good idea to have one of these.
- Fixed rate account: A bank account that you use to save your money. It's a good idea to have one of these.

Spending your money right

How to set yourself up for future riches.

HOW TO BE A SAVVY SPENDER

Being things can be loads of fun, right? There's a reason for that: research has found that buying something new and exciting can release feel-good hormones such as endorphins, dopamine and serotonin in our bodies. This makes us want to buy more to keep feeling good. But sometimes, we might regret it. So before you go "Shopping and taking my money", ask yourself these six questions...

- 1. Do I NEED it, or just WANT it?
You NEED it if it's a basic need like food, shelter, or clothing. You WANT it if it's something that would make you feel better or more like you. If you're not sure, ask yourself: "Do I NEED it, or just WANT it?"
- 2. If I save now, can I afford something else later?
If you save now, you can afford something else later. But if you don't save now, you might not be able to afford something else later. So before you buy, ask yourself: "If I save now, can I afford something else later?"
- 3. Is this the best price?
Shop around at different retailers or in different stores – you might save a lot of money, or even decide that you don't really need to buy anything at all.
- 4. Cheap buy or investment buy?
Sometimes a cheap buy can be an investment buy. For example, if you buy a cheap jacket that you can wear for a long time, it's a good investment. But if you buy a cheap jacket that you can only wear for a short time, it's not a good investment.

REMEMBER:

- DON'T buy on credit, or use a credit card only for something you can't live without.
- Be careful with AfterPay! It's easy to get carried away and buy more things than you can afford to pay off.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

There are many unanswered questions surrounding working and studying as an apprentice or trainee. Here's what you need to know.

01. What is the difference between an apprenticeship and a traineeship?

- A traineeship is generally in a non-trade area and the training term is typically 1 to 2 years full time and an apprenticeship is for trade areas with a term of up to 3 to 4 years full time.
- Part-time training arrangements for traineeships and apprenticeships may be approved where a part-time employee is supported by an appropriate industrial award or agreement and the minimum part-time hours of work are met. The training term for a part-time training arrangement is longer.

02. What are my study commitments?

Your Registered Training Organisation (RTO) develops a training plan with you and your employer. TAFE is also an RTO. The training plan outlines the number of units of competency required to complete your apprenticeship or traineeship; how, when and where the training will be done; and how assessment of competencies is to occur.

03. How long will it take me to complete an apprenticeship or traineeship?

Apprenticeships and traineeships are approved for a nominal term based on advice by industry about how long it may take the apprentice or trainee to gain the required level of skills through completing the work-based and formal RTO training. Early completion, known as Competency Based Completion (CBC) may happen if the apprentice or trainee has been assessed as competent and issued with a qualification by their RTO. The application for CBC must be supported by both the employer and apprentice/trainee.

04. How much will I earn as an apprentice?

Your wage will be dependent on several factors including what industrial award or agreement you are paid under. The Australian Fairwork Ombudsman has created a pay calculator.

Visit: calculate.fairwork.gov.au/FindYourAward

05. How much are my apprenticeship or traineeship fees?

Your RTO will advise if there are additional costs associated with your nominated course. Payment is dependent on the current relevant State Government policy, also the industrial award or agreement you are paid under.

06. What should I do if I experience a workplace issue?

Your employer has the legal responsibility and obligation to ensure your health and safety is a priority whilst working and training during your confirmed hours of work. They are also responsible for ensuring that the principles of equal opportunity and workplace harassment are communicated and practiced.

Just a reminder

You have a responsibility for your own behaviour and to obey your employer's instructions, ensuring your own safety and that of your colleagues. Being self-aware is incredibly valuable in the workplace.

To have a clear understanding of each other's obligations and expectations throughout your apprenticeship or traineeship you and your employer should read the "National Code of Good Practice for Australian Apprenticeships", provided separately.

07. What are my responsibilities?

As an apprentice or trainee you can expect a high level of service with the availability of three key documents National Code of Good Practice, Provider – Code of Conduct and the Introduction to the National Employment Standards Document. These documents are available at australianapprenticeships.gov.au

TOP TIP – Your Industry Training Consultant and the ASA Contact Hub are your main points of contact to guide you and support you on the journey.
